Product benefits:

Monitor Striker is a metal-free shoe suitable for a diverse types of work. The sole is made from dual-density polyurethane with a well-cushioned midsole and a harder outsole with good traction and durability. The front of the sole is pulled up over the toe to provide extra protection. The insole is Monitor's SS2 sole, which is also made from dual-density polyurethane with additional cushioning panels under the heel and ball. The upper contains full-grain leather with ventilated mesh panels on the sides and carbon-coated leather for extra toe protection. The toecap is wide and made from composite material.
